To Phil Melanson and Paul Hoch from Harold Weisberg re enclosed memo to Lesar, 6/26/84

If either one of you can resolve the uncertainty of recollection I reflect in the 3rd paragraph I'd appreciate it. I've always believed that the CIA had both the USSR and Cubans bugged but I also seem to recall that only the Cuban bugging was disclosed. ...I've always suspected that the CIA had an inside informer with the Cubans and from the time of the CIA's first releases, I've suspected Duran. This comes from the CIA's great concern that the Mexican police not work her over a second time, in that release. Because the CIA taught police how to administer these workings over, my belief was that they did not want her abused again because she was their informer. I'm at a loss to find any other explanation for their expressed concern for her physical wellbeing.
